THE MANAGER SAYS...

"I'M AMAZED BY VOLUME OF SUPPORT HERE!"

"For since his arrival at Home Park three months ago, the club have been plagued with the biggest simultaneous crop of injuries and suspensions for many a long year. As most fans will recall, on a couple of occasions before Xmax, the club was down to their last eleven fit professionals – no way to go into vital Third Division matches."

... So wrote Ted Sherrell of the Tavistock Press!

I'm not one to bemoan situations like Ted has described, but I'm certainly looking forward to the day when we have our full complement to choose from, regularly!

I'm not over crazy about the over indulged words like 'vital', 'crucial', 'desperate need', 'uncomfortable', 'trial and error', 'survival'. All I say is that there is a long road ahead with many turnings. All we can hope to do is drive positively and confidently and hopefully achieve journey's end safely with our Third Division status intact.

But we have a long way to go yet, don't let's kid ourselves otherwise!

I was introduced to Wilf Hoskins the other night. Jimmy Goodfellow and I had driven over to St. Mellion golf and leisure complex for a quiet evening. Martin Bond had made us very welcome. This sprightly "70-odd year young" snooker player gave us an insight into the fanatical support in the West Country for Argyle. I'm still amazed at the great support and friendliness of everyone. Long may it continue! Long may you continue, Wilf!!

Finally, a final word about Tommy Tynan and his new offer of contract. Tommy has decided, and quite rightly, against signing at this moment of time. But I'm sure his heart is with the green jersey and I want to see him reach his target of 30 goals.

I know you fans share that same desire!!

Our Visitors today..

SIMON FARNWORTH (Goalkeeper) – After a promising and patent apprenticeship, Simon made the most of his break into the Bolton first team last season and missed only ten games.

BRIAN BORROWS (Defender) – Player of the Year last season, the cultured former Everton full-back made a terrific impression in the Third Division. Can also play in midfield.

RAY DEAKIN (Defender) – The Bolton skipper showed great determination in regaining his place after losing his form in the middle of last season. The former Everton and Port Vale defender made 47 appearances.

PETER VALENTINE (Defender) – The former Huddersfield Town defender missed only four games last season and rightly earned the label of “Mr Consistency” at the heart of the Wanderers’ defence.

JIMMY PHILLIPS (Defender) – The Bolton youngster has made great strides in his bid for first team recognition and deserved the chance of his first full appearance against Bristol Rovers on the opening day of the season.

MARK CAME (Defender) – The hard-tackling central defender gave up a 9 to 5 job to move into the professional game when he joined Wanderers from non-league Winsford United at the end of last season.

WARREN JOYCE (Midfield) – Missed only one game in the Bolton midfield last season, the young all-round sportsman has played County Cricket at Colts level and is a Rugby Union Schoolboy tourist.

GRAHAM BELL (Midfield) – John McGovern turned to the former Oldham and Preston man when he was looking for a touch of experience to add to his midfield last season. Signed on a free transfer from Carlisle United and enjoyed an unbroken 19-match run.

STEVE THOMPSON (Midfield) – The man Wanderers rely on to operate on the right hand side of midfield, the youngster, son of an ex-League player, played 45 games in Bolton colours last season.

JEFF CHANDLER (Forward) – Jeff enjoyed his most successful season scoring 17 goals and being Bolton’s only ever-present last season. A Republic of Ireland international, the former Blackpool player cost Bolton £40,000 when he signed from Leeds in October 1981.

TONY CALDWELL (Forward) – Set the Third Division alight when he scored five goals, a club record, in Bolton’s 8–1 win over Walsall in September last season, while on part-time forms and still an electrician. The recruit from non-League earned a full-time contract and ended the season top scorer with 22 goals from 37 appearances.

GEORGE OGHANI (Forward) – Another signing from non-League, George switched from the wing to central striker to earn himself a second chance after John McGovern had tried to sell him back to non-League in the summer.

"BOLTON HAVE KNOWN BETTER TIMES"

At the time of writing these notes the acting manager of our visitors today, Bolton Wanderers, is Charlie Wright, no stranger to Plymouth. Charlie who? You may well say. Well, I knew him when he was stationed in Plymouth with the 1st Battalion The Lancashire Regiment. They were members of the Premier Division of the Plymouth and District League and had an excellent side.

The Sports Officer was a certain Captain Le Gresley and he was football mad.

Charlie, believe it or not, used to travel to Workington every other week-end to play in goal for them for their home Football League fixtures. It must be some sort of record worthy of entry in the Guinness Book of Records for a player to travel that far for a home game, but this he did regularly. Since those days he has played for Grimsby, York and Bolton and I usually see him once a year at the Secretaries and Managers Dinner and Annual Meeting in the close season.

He has taken over from John McGovern who left the manager's job at Bolton not long after selling us our big, new centre-half Gerry McElhinney. Doubtless Charlie will have had us watched at nearby Preston last week, but as nice a person as he is, I hope his team come unstuck today and that Dave Smith's lads gather three points. We certainly need them. For me it is very sad to see a club with Bolton's past history languishing in the Third Division. Four times winners of the F.A. Cup and runners-up on three other occasions. They were, in my youth, a formidable First Division club.

Players like lion-hearted centre-forward Nat Lofthouse with 33 England caps to his credit was certainly one of my favourites; what a fearsome sight he was bearing down on his opponents' goal.

Bolton's 'keeper, Eddie Hopkinson, another English international, made 519 first team appearances for them and as I remember he wasn't all that big for a 'keeper - 5ft 9in or 10in.

Another great player, of course, was Francis Lee who joined Manchester City and went on to play for England. It was against the City, in fact, that Bolton had their record home crowd, 69,912 for a 5th Round F.A. Cup in 1933. Now their ground capacity has been reduced to 43,000.

I hope the great days come back again to Burnden Park, the home of once proud Bolton.

"In my opinion..."

by Derek Henderson

THE DILEMMA AT MOLINEUX

What has happened to once-mighty Wolverhampton Wanderers? The decline of a once-marvellous club who had a team to match, is a salutary lesson for all big clubs who mistakenly think it couldn't happen to them.

One supposes that if a club like Aston Villa can fall from the First to the Third Division before grasping a foothold on the slippery slope, then why not Wolves.

But then they're no fools in the Black Country. And even though no club is not vulnerable to hard times, those who knew the set-up and what made Wolves tick would never have imagined they could get into the mess they now find themselves in.

At the shaky helm is our old friend Tommy Docherty, ebullient as ever, doling out the wisecracks which is his way of hiding underlying worry and concern.

He even had the bravery to tell a tale on television against himself and the club. He wanted to sign a man just off the boat from Vietnam, but the fellow declined to play for Wolves saying "I've just left one sinking ship – I don't want to join another."

The Doc was quick to deny rumours of a total rift between him and the chairman Derek Dougan, even making the point of saying how could he as Dougan was seldom there?

But while Wolves hover perilously near the basement zone in Division II – a sad enough state for those who still look upon them as a top-six Division I outfit – their bold and ambitious plan for a £22 million multi-purpose complex at Molineux to be built in the spring, must now be in jeopardy.

It comes down to the old hoary issue: which do you do first, build a super stadium for the comfort of your fans, or find a team to excite them and then improve the facilities afterwards?

Theoretically, the two should go hand in hand, but it isn't easy to work it like that. Too many clubs enjoyed enormous gates after the war for a decade and didn't do a damn thing to improve their antiquated facilities, figuring suicidally that there was no need, as long as the peasants packed themselves in week after week, content with their lot.

But by the time the boom was over, and the clubs began to realise they'd missed their chance, it was too late.

Some have succeeded in putting their stadiums to rights by hook or by crook, but too many of our grounds are a disgrace socially. You've only got to see what the American football and baseball clubs offer their spectators to realise how Dickensian are the majority of our League grounds, even today.

Wolves are on the horns of a classic dilemma. For them, though – surely there is only one way out. They must pin their faith in rebuilding their team no matter how long or painful the job. For what's the good of a £22 million complex if only 6,000 people want to see the team play on a Saturday afternoon?

GOT A SPARE COPY OF "ALL ABOUT ARGYLE"?

25, Colwill Walk, Mainstone, Plymouth PL6 8XF.

Dear Editor,

I am a great fan of Argyle and have been for many years. In the Match Magazine I am very interested in "Argyle in Retrospect" (excerpts taken from "All About Argyle" by the late W. S. Tonkin). I wondered if the book, was still available to buy? If so where could I obtain a copy and how much would it cost?

I would be very grateful for any information. Many thanks.

Yours sincerely,
Stuart Nutt.

NOTE:

I know this book is out-of-print. It may well be, however, that a supporter has a spare copy. If so please contact Mr. Nutt directly.

ANYONE FROM PETWORTH?

Flat 1, Lombard Street, Petworth, West Sussex.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to see if you can help me. I am a Plymouth supporter, but find it rather expensive travelling to see them play. I wonder if you could put a note in the Match Programme to see if there might be someone near my address so that we could share running costs.

If you could help me I would be very grateful.

Yours faithfully,
S. R. Carter

Supporters in Exile

Fred Fielding of the Argyle Supporters' Association London Branch writes:

NATURE NOTES – from our London Correspondent

What a joy it is towards the end of August to see the return to the London and Home Counties area after its summering in the Mediterranean of one of my favourite birds, the Spotted Pasalb. This bird, a member of the Great Tit family, was first officially recorded in the London area in 1976, and now seems to have established a healthy colony hereabouts. The species originally came from the South West of England, and we have been glad to welcome it to this part of the country.

When a bird like this changes its habitat it can have difficulty in adapting to its new surroundings. The staple food of the Spotted Pasalb is the pasty (Oggius Dewdneyii) which grows plentifully on trees in the West Country, but is very hard to find in the London area. However I am glad to say that their requirements for liquid nourishment seem to be quite well catered for. They like water which is discoloured, being brownish after things like Hop leaves have fallen into it. Some birds even prefer water which is absolutely black and has a thick white foam on the top (known in the old West Country dialects as 'Nigerian Lager'). These cheery little chaps can often be seen quenching their thirsts at their favourite ponds in and around London.

But surely the most interesting feature of the Spotted Pasalb is its restless habits. During the autumn and winter months the male birds in particular frequently leave their nest and fly off to far parts of the country. They sometimes return to their original breeding grounds in the South West, but are often sighted in parts like Bradford and Burnley, and have even been reported in places as remote as Scunthorpe. This is believed to be because the bird follows the hunting pattern of a small green animal with black stripes called the Argyle which has its home in the South West but often roams the country in search of its favourite fruit, the Waywin. This fruit is also much liked by the Spotted Pasalb. The bird follows the Argyle about the country in the hope that it will lead it to supplies of this rather rare fruit.

Of extreme interest to ornithologists is the ritual which the birds enact when they reach the supposed location of the Waywin. This starts when they arrive at the place to which they have followed the Argyle. They first find a suitable pond, where they then consume large quantities of whatever kind of liquid they prefer, probably both to refresh themselves after the long journey and to prepare themselves for the exhausting ritual which is to come. Thus refreshed, the birds congregate on the nearest patch of ground with the kind of terraced aspect which they seem to prefer. Then they begin the main part of the ritual, the purpose of which has baffled even the best of our ornithologists so far.

Perched on the rough terraces, the birds enact their extraordinary ritual. This lasts for about an hour and a half, while the Argyle searches for the Waywin. The birds' strange behaviour includes beating their breasts and sometimes covering their eyes with their wings. All the while they utter strange cries. An old countryman once told me that these cries, which are characterised by the repeated call which sound like 'yew-greens', are only made when they become excited by the actions of the Argyle.

Long may this attractive bird flourish under the protection of the RSPB and PASALB.

CANON CHATTER

AROUND THE NINETY-TWO

A regular column of news from the clubs of the four divisions

When the F.A. decided that the LEICESTER CITY and BURTON ALBION tie should be replayed behind closed doors, it was not only a far-reaching decision, but one which they hadn't made for 70 years!

When BRADFORD CITY and NORWICH met behind closed gates at LINCOLN in 1915, the reason was to discourage absenteeism from local wartime munitions factories!

Three famous ex-players form part of the pools panel which sits when the number of postponements reaches a certain figure. They are Stan Mortensen, ex-BLACKPOOL and England striker, Ronnie Simpson, former NEWCASTLE and CELTIC goalkeeper, and Roger Hunt, former LIVERPOOL forward and a member of England's 1966 World Cup winning side.

Another Weymouth player is set to achieve fame following in the footsteps of their former player Graham Roberts, now with TOTTENHAM. The Gola League club sold 21-year-old midfielder Andy Townsend to SOUTHAMPTON for a £35,000 fee, which marked a handsome profit for the club managed by former EXETER boss Brian Godfrey.

The Saints had just sold Reuben Agboola to SUNDERLAND after their other big deal in releasing Steve Williams to ARSENAL. Names in the news ... Paul Barron, WEST BROMWICH goalkeeper, went on a month's loan to struggling STOKE CITY ... 23-year-old Steve Pears made his debut in goal for MANCHESTER UNITED against COVENTRY but Terry Gibson's goal made it a sad day for the Reds ... IPSWICH TOWN paid £150,000 for DERBY COUNTY forward Kevin Wilson.

With all the success that LIVERPOOL have enjoyed in recent years, it seems hard to reconcile the fact that it is 11 years since the F.C. Cup ended up in the Anfield boardroom. They showed they meant to put this to rights when they disposed of ASTON VILLA 3-0 in the third round with Ian Rush grabbing his eighth goal in as many games against the Birmingham club.

That round meant a little piece of history for DONCASTER ROVERS for not for 29 years had the Yorkshire club reached that stage, with QPR the victims of one of the round's shocks.

Brian Clough is now in his 11th year in charge of NOTTINGHAM FOREST's affairs after the unhappy episode at LEEDS where he stayed for only a few weeks.

And Cloughie has been praising the qualities of one of his old players, Frank Clark, whose ORIENT side put WEST BROM out of the Cup. Clough says that when his time comes to pack it in, he will recommend Clark as his successor. Says Clark: "I'm flattered. But there will only ever be one Cloughie."

In days of dwindling gates, it was heartening to note that the 27,404 at Loftus Road, for the QPR-TOTTENHAM clash was not only a sell-out on one of the coldest days of January, but produced record receipts for the home club.

ARGYLE IN RETROSPECT

(Excerpt taken from "All About Argyle" by the late W. S. Tonkin)

(Build you own club history – match by match!)

THE ROAD BACK . . . (Part 2)

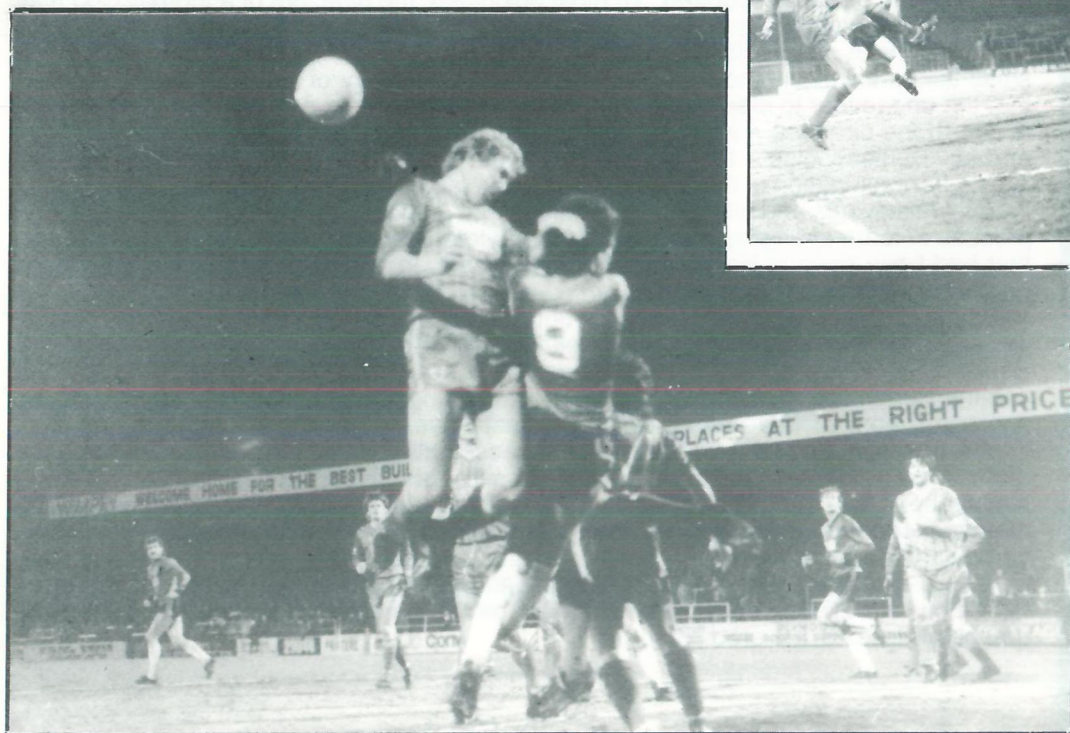

During the next three seasons, Argyle finished 17th, 20th, and 21st respectively on the League table, but a genuine, if belated, effort to strengthen the team by frantic and expensive excursions into the transfer market resulted in the gradual formation of an Argyle team worthy of the name. In the process of team-building, mistakes may have been made and opportunities missed, but it can be stated with confidence that the team that ultimately had the misfortune to be relegated to the Third Division in 1950 can be reckoned as one of the most workmanlike – and unluckiest – combinations ever to wear the Argyle colours. Critics complained that the main factors that cost Plymouth Argyle their Second Division status was the legacy of the short-sighted policy of team-building, plus the folly of experimenting too long with immature players in the League side – which may be partly true – but the geographic location of Plymouth in the football world and the anomalies of the inflated transfer system, seems more likely to be the fundamental cause.

But it should be stated that the Argyle team that was relegated in 1950 was not bought on the cheap or easily acquired. To most onlookers, the directors of a football club may not matter as much as the players; but it is in the boardroom where the decisions are made, financial responsibilities accepted, and the club policy dictated . . . and these small things are not without their importance. The tragedy of the 1950 relegation was that the endeavour to stop the decline was delayed too long; nevertheless, some credit is due to the directors – who had been joined by Mr. A. E. Cload, Mr. John Chapman, and Mr. Dudley Coles – for dipping deeply into their pockets in a brave effort to save Argyle from relegation to the Third Division. The failure of this mission may have caused internal misgivings and ultimate resignations, but an undisputed fact remains that in the process of team strengthening, Plymouth Argyle got together the classiest combination that had been seen at Home Park for many years. In every position in the team there was craft and experience.

Actual transfer costs may be secret, but without intimate knowledge of all the details, we all know that personalities like Neil Dougall, George Dews, Jack Chisholm, Bill Shortt, Stan Williams, Alec Machin, Les Major, Harold Dobbie, Paddy Ratcliffe, and Johnny Porteous did not arrive at Home Park without substantial price tags, and the aggregate cost of this galaxy of talent must have presented a staggering figure.

At a time when a slump in football attendances all over the country seems to be the order of the day, one of the more pleasing aspects of those early post-war seasons was the loyalty of the Home Park crowds. Although the Argyle playing record in their League matches seemed unimpressive, the team did in fact play entertaining football – particularly during the 1940–50 season – and were distinctly unlucky to be relegated. Only on five occasions that season, due to bad weather, did League match attendances fall below the 20,000 mark, and it should be remembered that this was before the grandstand could be erected.

FLASHBACK

ARGYLE v. BOLTON 1966—1967 AWAY WON 2—1

Argyle visited Burnden Park on the 22nd April, 1967, trying for the double. The sides had met at Home Park way back in November when the Pilgrims won by 2 goals to nil. April showers that day in Bolton kept the crowd down to 7,257. The teams lined up as follows:

Argyle: Dunne, Everitt, Baird, Hore, Nelson, Newman, Davey, Banks, Etheridge, Piper, Mitten, Sub — Neale.

Bolton: Hopkinson, Hatton, Farrimond, Rimmer, Hulme, Lennard, Taylor, Byrom, Lee, Bromley, Phillips, Sub — Greaves.

Argyle did most of the early attacking and the opening goal came after only 12 minutes. A corner from John Mitten found Alan Banks in space and he nodded the ball home. Norman Piper netted what looked like a good goal, but was just offside. Argyle were caught napping only seconds after the interval when outside left Ron Phillips scored Bolton's equaliser. Argyle had to wait until 3 minutes before the end for the winner, and what a goal for Johnny Hore. From over 30 yards, John took aim and the ball flew past England goalkeeper Eddie Hopkinson. A great goal and incidentally John's first goal for Argyle. The two points were in the bag. Looking back on the Argyle half back line that day, it is interesting to note that all three: Johnny Hore, Andy Nelson, and Johnny Newman, all made their mark as football managers as did Mike Everitt. This series is written by Don Smith of 15 Abingdon Road, Plymouth, who still requires for his collection of cigarette and trade cards, many missing items for his sports collection. Can any Bolton fan help me with any issued by Roodcroft Ltd; 35 were issued. If you have any for sale or exchange, please write. All letters answered.

Commercial Column

Commercial Manager Bill Pearce writes ...

THE FREIGHT ROVER TROPHY

The Freight Rover Trophy is the first competition for The Football League's Third and Fourth Division clubs which will end with the glory of a Wembley Final.

That in itself is sufficient to make the competition, which replaces last season's Association Members' Cup, a unique event.

But there is more to it than that. Freight Rover's sponsorship is worth about £50,000. The first £30,000 will go to the prize-fund for the more successful clubs and the two Wembley finalists will each receive a Freight Rover 15-seater minibus worth about £10,000 which can be used to transport clubs' teams and officials on local journeys. Not only that, the Sherpas, as the buses are called, will be presented to the clubs already painted in their colours.

As Sandy Mathieson, Sales and Marketing Director of Freight Rover said when the sponsorship was announced: "Even in the First Round, supporters and player will realise that the Wembley dream is only a handful of matches away – it could at last be their turn for the big day out."

There is one other major difference between the Freight Rover Trophy and last season's Associate Members' Cup in which Bournemouth beat Hull 2-1 in the Final. The First Round has been made two-legged to give all fans a chance of seeing their team at home.

The competition is straight knock-out from the Second Round onwards. When matches are level after extra-time penalties will decide the outcome. There will be no replays.

The competition is divided geographically into north and south areas. The Final, therefore, will be contested by the winners of the two Area Finals.

The Second Round will comprise 24 clubs. The Third Round will consist of the 12 winners and the two highest-scoring beaten clubs in each Area.

This creates an added incentive to go all-out for goals in the first two rounds. For example, a club scoring say eight goals in winning the two-legged First Round tie and then losing 4-3 in the Second Round must have every chance, with 11 goals, of making one of the two places available for the top-scoring clubs.

The competition dates, all weeks commencing, are:

1st round, 1st leg	January 21, 1985
1st round, 2nd leg	February 4
2nd round	February 18
Area Quarter-Finals	March 18
Area Semi-Finals	April 15
Area Finals	May 13
National Final	June 1 (at Wembley)

PRESS REPORTS

PRESTON — 1 ARGYLE — 2

Rod Alker

PLYMOUTH came back from a goal down to devastate Preston with an aggressive second-half display — and a brilliant winner from Kevin Hodges.

It wasn't as frantic as their three goals in the last five minutes at Home Park earlier this season when they galloped from being 4-3 down to a 6-4 win over Preston. But it got pretty hectic at times.

News of the World

3.2.85

Harley Lawer

CLIVE Goodyear, who has been in and out of Plymouth Argyle's team trying to justify his costly £40,000 price tag, came back with a bang at Deepdale yesterday.

The ex-Luton defender hardly looked the right choice for emergency 12th man duties, either, when striker Kevin Summerfield retired with bruised ribs after only half an hour.

A quick reshuffle led to Leigh Cooper moving forward to accommodate Goodyear in an unfamiliar midfield role.

But suddenly, his burly presence filled the centre of the field giving Argyle the height and power they have so often needed in this department in the past.

Then Goodyear added another surprising dimension to his play by swooping from nowhere to star as a goal-poaching opportunist!

Independent

John Harrison

TWO GOALS in nine minutes midway through the second half deservedly saw Plymouth Argyle collect their first League win in five matches at the expense of relegation strugglers Preston at Deepdale on Saturday.

A determined second-half display with Clive Goodyear playing a key role in an unfamiliar midfield position, saw Plymouth hit back after suffering, and early reverse when Preston took an 11th minute lead.

W. Morning News

PLYMOUTH produced another Houdini act to snatch three valuable points against fellow strugglers Preston.

Early in the season they trailed 4-3 at Home Park only to win 6-4 with three in the last three minutes. This time it wasn't quite so dramatic as they came from 1-0 down.

Sunday People

3.2.85

Staff Reporter

PLYMOUTH registered their first double of the season.

John Kelly put Preston ahead after 11 minutes from a 40-yard run, but Plymouth 'keeper Geoff Crudgington's brilliant form kept his side afloat until the 59th minute when Goodyear cashed in on a bad back pass.

Mail on Sunday

3.2.85

Graham Hambly

DEEPPDALE has not been one of Plymouth Argyle's happier hunting grounds over the years — but Kevin Hodges is out to change all that.

Midfielder Hodges's goal sparked an end to a run of seven successive Preston victories two seasons ago when Argyle came back to snatch a point with two goals in the last seven minutes.

And it was Hodges who did it again on Saturday to give Argyle their first win at Deepdale in over 20 years with his 69th minute winner.
